Group Hospitalization Plan Sought for Georgia

FULL PROTECTION
FOR $1 MONTHLY
AIM OF SPONSORS

Georgia Hospital Association, Meeting Here,
Maps Plans To Seek Legislation Clearing
Way for New Project.

PLAN TO BE BACKED
BY ALL HOSPITALS

Under Proposal, Drugs,
Nursing, Anesthetics
Would Be Furnished
Members for 21 Days.

A plan for group hospitalization protection for Georgians through payment of a small monthly sum is being promulgated by the Georgia Hospital Association and legislation clearing the way for the project will be sponsored by the state-wide hospital organization at the next session of the legislature.

Indication that virtually all hospitals in Georgia will back the group hospitalization plan came Friday afternoon at the quarterly meeting of the association at the Academy of Medicine.

In brief, the plan would guarantee hospitalization to members of the project who would be required to pay a sum of between 75 cents and $1 monthly.

Should a member become ill or need hospitalization in any way, Georgia hospitals would take care of that member for a maximum of about 21 days, supplying drugs, anesthetics, routine nursing, food, etc. All hospital bills would be paid out of the monthly dues.

Doctors are establishing a similar system of protection and the two plans would work in conjunction. A person holding membership in both the hospital and the doctor's organization would not be required to pay more than the monthly dues to the two associations. Physicians in Fulton county already have inaugurated a plan somewhat like this but its details are not to be worked out.

Other States Have Plan.
The president of the Georgia Hospital Association, Superintendent W. D. Barker, of the Georgia hospital hospital, said a number of other states already have group hospitalization organizations but before one can be established in Georgia, laws will have to be changed so that the plan will not be classified as an insurance venture. A ruling was passed recently that such a project would be in the insurance field and would necessitate the backing of the plan complying with laws governing insurance companies.

Georgia requires insurance companies to deposit $100,000 as collateral and other sums must be kept on deposit to guarantee policies.

"We will attempt to have this plan freed of compliance to the insurance laws by the state legislature," said President Barker.

Twelve Cities Represented.
Twelve Georgia cities were represented at the meeting Friday afternoon by hospital superintendents and officials, and in addition to the group hospitalization plan, reduction in taxes for hospitals and means of bringing about increased revenues were discussed.

President Barker said the group

Alfonso Asks Vatican To Annul Son's Marriage

PARIS, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Former King Alfonso, of Spain, is seeking to have the Vatican annul the marriage of his eldest son, the Count of Caserta, to Edelmira Sampedro y Rogato, Cuban commoner, it was reported here today.

Termination of the "true love" romance which led the erstwhile Prince of Asturias to renounce his rights to the vacant Spanish throne last year would be based on the fact that the marriage was morganatic and without the consent of his "most holy Catholic majesty," acquaintances of the couple said.

The beautiful countess, who has been living apart from her royal husband, will sail soon for New York, whence she plans to go to Miami to spend part of the winter with her sister and brother-in-law, Senor and Senora Martino Arguelles.

DEFENSIVE ACCORD AGAINST GERMANY CLAIMED BY PARIS

Soviet Stands Ready To To Help Crush Hitler in Event of Attack, Chamber Is Told.

By JOHN EVANS.
(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 23.—(AP)—A blunt assertion that France's only ally, Russia, stands ready to help her crush Adolf Hitler if Germany attacks France, coupled with warnings of the German peril, today helped smash the army's $375,000,000 budget for 1935 through the chamber of deputies.

Leon Archimbaud, reporter of the budget, plainly declared an "understanding" between the pre-war allies has been renewed and said flatly that Russia's war machine is at France's disposal if Hitler strikes.

The new minister of war, General Louis Manrin, was present during the debate. He did not comment on Archimbaud's assertion. Other official quarters, however, said Archimbaud "exaggerated."

Deputies Vote Money.
Months of plain speaking about the danger of an invasion from Germany by land and air and frank analysis of the comparative weakness of the French defenses brought quick passage of the army's $3,659,215,895-franc budget.

Yet to come before the aroused deputies are military credits for other ministerial budgets and the emergency defense appropriation of $600,000,000 francs (about $250,000,000) which will make total credits for the army next to $2,469,885,895 francs (about $475,000,000).

Archimbaud told the chamber there was no alliance or military accord between France and Russia but he declared there did exist an "understanding."

"We must recognize," he said, "that Hitler tried to attack us. He is not our natural enemy, first Poland and then Japan."

"Realizing that this situation risked the peace of Europe, France wished to safeguard her liberty and it cannot be denied that an understanding exists between the two countries."

"I do not wish to say an alliance or a military accord, I simply accept as a fact that the Russian army

F. D. R. Discusses Cheaper Power With Experts, Views Soil Erosion Work at Meriwether Farm

Activities at his Meriwether county farm Friday commanded the attention of President Roosevelt, who is taking his annual Thanksgiving vacation at the "Little White House" at Warm Springs. The president is shown above as he watched from the driver's seat of his automobile a tractor digging a ditch to prevent soil erosion. Mrs. Roosevelt, with Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture, is on the rear seat. With his foot on the running board is Otis Moore, manager of the president's farm.

In the late afternoon, Mr. Roosevelt called a halt in his discussions long enough to drive to his farm stop Pine mountain where he viewed soil erosion prevention work. He sat behind the wheel of his little open car as a powerful tractor dug terraces to guard against washing away of top soil during heavy rains.

From the meadow where the operation was taking place, he motored slowly through the nearby countryside to look over his property that includes one of the prize cattle herds in this part of the state. At one of his stops he inquired of conditions on the farm of Otis Moore, his farm manager.

Others Viewing Farm.
Mrs. Roosevelt, Dr. Tugwell, Miss Nancy Cook and Mrs. Malvina Schneider accompanied the president on the trip. The president's farm manager, Otis Moore, said that the president had been very interested in the soil erosion work and had spent a great deal of time in the field.

Mr. Roosevelt began his power conference after spending considerable time with Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture, and No. 1 "brain trust" of the administration.

With Tugwell he carried forward conversations begun yesterday on agricultural policies and their relation to soil erosion.

Irate Court Seizes Millionaire's Yacht

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—(AP) Judge Hugh C. Cade, of civil district court, today lost patience with George M. Cox Sr., millionaire New Orleans and Chicago shipbuilder, for the latter's failure to appear in answer to a contempt citation for refusing to pay his estranged wife $1,000 a month alimony and ordered Cox's property sold. Shortly afterward the civil sheriff seized Cox's $900,000 yacht.

Mrs. Cox claimed that her husband had turned over to her only $3,000 of the money which was awarded to her by Judge Cade in September, 1933, and the court ordered $10,000 still due to be paid immediately under penalty of sale of the shipbuilder's property.

LABOR DENOUNCES RICHBERG'S VIEWS ON UNION PROVISIO

Interpretation of Section 7-A in Conflict, Green Asserts; Board Decision Supported.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Organized labor today denounced and termed "completely unacceptable" the interpretation of Section 7-A repeatedly expressed by Donald R. Richberg, President Roosevelt's recovery coordinator and ace advisor.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted in an interview that Richberg's opinion flatly contradicted that of the national labor relations board. It served, he said, only to increase the "confusion" surrounding labor's rights under N.R.A.

Background of Action.
Behind his statements lay: The labor board's ruling in the famous Houde case that if a majority of the workers in a particular plant vote for collective bargaining representation by a particular union, that union shall speak for all the plant's employees, with the right of minorities to present grievances protected.

Richberg's contrasting view is that only those actually voting in the election are to be represented by the union, with those participating bound to abide by the results, but with that result entirely inapplicable to employees who refrained from voting.

"Mr. Richberg's interpretation is applied to the great confusion that already exists," Green said. "Either the labor board is right and Richberg is wrong, or Richberg is right and the labor board is wrong."

"In this conflict of interpretations, labor accepts that of the national labor relations board, and the industrial created by congress for the purpose of interpreting Section 7-A and applying it to particular cases."

"Labor cannot and will not accept Richberg's interpretation. Under his interpretation a corporation can absolutely control the economic destinies of all its workers."

Company Union War.
The controversy goes back to the federation's war upon the company union. Elections of the type referred to have been directed at giving the worker an opportunity to express by secret ballot his preference for a union with national affiliations or for the employer representation plan of the employer.

The Houde decision was hailed by labor as a monumental victory, since if enforced, the national and international unions chosen in such elections would have the legal right to represent all the workers in the plant in which the election was held.

Under Richberg's interpretation, which was uttered soon afterward, repeated the week labor contentions that the purpose of such an election could be defeated by unscrupulous corporations using influence and coercion to prevent numbers of their employees from participating in the election.

OVERNIGHT "BOOM"

Full Effect of Reversal
in Psychology of Nation
Will Not Be Felt for Months, Leaders Say.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Better business and a better business outlook were reported today by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and upheld by government statistics.

"Evidences of improving business sentiment, and a basis for it, seen in October, continue to appear in November," the Chamber said, noting "a 6 per cent rise in the volume of check payments, steady retail sales, stable wholesale prices, favorable car loadings reports and increasing steel production."

Meanwhile, the commerce department prepared for its forthcoming monthly review a statement that business has been slowly on the gain. It reported increased industrial production, employment, pay rolls and construction.

Only last night, the labor department, giving figures for October, reported a 250,000 increase in employment and $11,300,000 gain in weekly pay rolls. Secretary Perkins expressed pleasure at a pronounced pay roll rise in the durable goods industries.

The Chamber of Commerce a week ago initiated a campaign for active co-operation between the administration and business leaders in bringing about recovery. A ready response came from other business organizations and key New Deal officials.

The move was said to have been based upon a realization that President Roosevelt apparently would be highly optimistic and should be nurtured into the sustained drive to recovery.

The co-operative effort followed a period in which the president and officials close to him sought to assure businessmen that they could safely proceed with plans free from the fear of sudden restraints of radical tendencies.

Today the chamber asserted that the grade conditions of the moment were such that reassurances of this nature were less needed now than several months ago. It emphasized, however, that business should not have to cope suddenly with unforeseen governmental alterations in business conditions.

"In responsible modern enterprise there is such a long interval between origination of additional undertakings and accomplishment, with so large outlays for labor and materials and so small a margin for profit or loss, that a feeling of freedom from the danger of unpredictable outside influences is necessary to released initiative," it said.

"To give this feeling in many directions it will now require less in the way of reassurance than at any time since last spring."

Broad Index.
Of the month's business omens, it said: "Such a broad index of national activity as the volume of payments by checks in the commercial and industrial centers of the country is running 6 per cent over the level of last year, and 20 per cent over the year before."

"There is an obvious tendency in these figures to even up as among

COTTON ACT VOTE SET FOR DEC. 14

Growers' Referendum Will Determine Future of Bankhead Law.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace said today the referendum on continuing the Bankhead compulsory control act would be conducted among southern cotton producers on December 14.

All cotton farmers will vote on the same day on whether they wish to have the Bankhead measure continued in 1935.

FAVOR IS REPORTED FOR BANKHEAD BILL
AMERICUS, Ga., Nov. 23.—(AP)—All but five of approximately 300 Sumter county farmers endorsed the Bankhead cotton production control bill with modifications in a meeting at Leslie.

The vote was taken in a private poll last night in the first of a series of meetings to be conducted by County Farm Agent J. K. Luck.

They voted to "keep the Bankhead bill with slight modifications to care for apparent inequalities."

CRISP AND HALL AGENTS SAY FARMERS FAVOR BILL.
ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 23.—(AP)—W. A. Lundy and H. Y. Cook, county agents of Crisp and Hall counties, respectively, report that indications are that a majority of cotton producers in their counties will vote for a continuance of the Bankhead control act.

Lundy said that the value of cotton in Crisp county has increased from $144,726 in 1932, to $600,670.69 in 1934.

Cook said that the large cotton crop produced in his county enabled many old debts to be settled in full. More food and feed crops have been grown in the county this year than in any year in its history, he said.

THOMSON BANKER PROFITS FROM ACT, HE REPORTS
THOMSON, Ga., Nov. 23.—(AP)—One banker in Thomson is fully qualified to vote on continuation of the Bankhead cotton production control act.

And he is 100 per cent for it, he said.

Galapagos Mystery Solved; Victims' Bodies Identified

BARONESS DE WAGNER.
By WALTER B. CLAUSEN.
(Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.)

ABOARD THE TUNA CLIPPER NORTHWESTER, IN PACIFIC WATERS, NOV. 23.—(AP)—The strangest tale that ever came out of the old pirate Archipelago of Galapagos today brought solution of the death mystery at the equator.

Captain Fred Ostrem, in the helmsman of this clipper, today identified the bodies found last Saturday dead from thirst and starvation on the black volcanic beach of bleak, waterless Marchena island, at the equator.

They were Arthur Estampa, 34, Norwegian, of indefatigable island, friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt Jr. and Vincent Astor, and Alfred Rudolph Lorenz, deserted companion of the Baroness Eloise Bonquet de Wagner, Captain Ostrem said.

The identification was made by Captain Ostrem, who knows all of the people of the Galapagos, from exclusive descriptions of the bodies released to the Associated Press a few days ago from the ship that found them.

Estampa's friendship for Lorenz began when the Parisian released him one morning after the Norwegian had been held prisoner for three days by the baroness.

The Norwegian skipper was so afraid of the baroness and her companions that he did not return to the island from whence he got his fresh meat from the little colony at Academy bay, some 40 miles north, until he learned that the baroness had vanished from the old convict island of Charles.

Captain Ostrem said the radio description to the Associated Press, and the finding of the bundle of baby clothes, convinced him beyond all doubt that Estampa was the second victim of this castaway tragedy on the lonely Marchena island.

Baby Clothes Explained.
The baby clothes, said Captain Ostrem, were no doubt those of the Wittman family, on Charles island, and that Estampa was bound back to his home, and his wife, Agnes, who joined him on indefatigable island.

TAX ASSESSMENTS ATTACKED IN SUIT

Protest Against Work of Arbitration Board Made by 30 Taxpayers.

A wholesale protest seeking reductions in state and county tax assessments for 1934 landed in Fulton superior court Friday when about 30 owners of large real estate holdings filed a suit in equity asking that Tax Collector W. S. Richardson be enjoined from levying on the properties and that the findings of a board of arbitration appointed to hear the protests be set aside.

The petitioners charge that A. Steve Nance, who represented the county on the board, and the Fulton county commissioners, in appointing Ed L. Almand, commissioner-elect, as a third member, conspired to "squash all future demands for arbitration of county and state tax assessments in Fulton county," and contend that Almand's appointment was illegal.

Judge E. D. Thomas set a hearing on the petition for December 11. It was announced by Ralph Pharr, acting county attorney, that the county will file an answer before the date set for the hearing.

According to the protesting taxpayers, the amount of cash involved in the disputed valuations is about $75,000. The valuations disputed amount to about $2,000,000, and cover some of Atlanta's largest apartment buildings and several valuable downtown parcels.

Board Actions Hit.
It is further charged that the board of tax assessors are "abdicating" their jobs in taking assessments at 70 per cent of the city assessments, without verification, and that the board of arbitration in passing on the valuations were made "solely in accordance with the predilections and bias of the said arbitrator and umpire," referring to Almand and Nance, J. H. Taylor, who was appointed as a member of the arbitration board representing the taxpayers, withdrew from the body and the proceedings went ahead without him.

The tax protest first came to the notice of the county commissioners when Guy Moore, tax receiver, found that a large number of pieces of property had been returned by one "C. F. Nash," and that in some of the in-

REVIEWING THE SHOWS

Some Choice Seats
Unfold for "Vanities"

Russell Bridges, who has had charge for Earl Carroll of the advance arrangements and seat sale for the two performances of "Vanities," at the auditorium on Monday, remarked Saturday he was glad the show was to appear in a place with the seating capacity of the auditorium.

"The demand for seats, both by mail from out-of-town and at the box office at Davidson's, has been tremendous," he said, "but the great use of the auditorium leaves many excellent locations still available for those who haven't made their reservations yet."

Another advantage of the auditorium, he pointed out, is that there is little to choose between the vast number of seats on main floor or dress circle and for a show like "Vanities," with its "most beautiful girls," and spectacular sets, the best effect is probably secured somewhat back from the stage.

Special arrangements are being made to assure that everyone in the house can hear every word of the show, also.

There will be only the two performances here. Matinee at 3 o'clock and night show at 8:30. Earl Carroll will be in personal charge of both performances.

Matinee of Men in White
Staged at Erlanger Today

Two performances of "Men in White," by the Charles Emerson Cook Players at the Erlanger theater will be given today—a matinee at 2:30 o'clock and the usual evening show at 8:30 o'clock. The show has been an unparalleled success and has won unstinted praise from critics and audiences alike.

Despite large advance sales, a few choice locations for this afternoon and tonight are available at the box office. The performance by the Charles Emerson Cook Players is identical in every detail with the Broadway smash hit production which ran so long in New York. "Men in White" is a highly intelligent and gripping story of hospitals and the doctors who run them.

AGE LIMIT SOUGHT IN CITY SCHOOLS

New Rules Will Ask Enforced Retirement of Teachers at 65.

Enforced retirement of teachers and other employees of the Atlanta public school system when they reach the age of 65 is contemplated in new rules of the board of education which will be submitted formally to the board of education at its monthly meeting on December 11.

If approved, all teachers who are 65 years of age on September 1, 1936, and those who reach that age in following years will be compelled to retire. About 25 will be affected at the time the rule is first applied, according to estimates of administration officials.

Any teacher, whether on pension or not, could obtain an extension for five years by obtaining a two-thirds vote of the board each year until he or she reaches the age of 70 years. No extension, however, can be allowed under the rule beyond the age of 70.

Abolition of the visual education department also is provided for in the revised rules.

D. M. Therrell and Mrs. Z. V. Peterson were authors of the retirement rule.

Clarified rules also make the board of education sole judge of the fitness of its employees, regarding morals, physical or mental ability and provide that the decision of the board is final in the matter of discharging any employee whether he is on civil service or not.

Employees are required to file immediately with administration officials correct records of the date of their birth and other data necessary to put the 70-year retirement plan into immediate effect.

Special departments also will be abolished, but the personnel will be retained as directors and will assist various assistant superintendents in administration of various activities.

The visual education department was one of those under fire of Mayor James L. Key in his recent successful drive for re-election, and the retirement rule is said to be the outgrowth of a battle of Miss Mamie Lee Pitts, principal of the J. Allen Couch school, to prevent being retired. She fought the effort, but was forced from the system.

Children must be five years of age to be admitted to kindergartens without examination or must be approaching the fifth birthday within 30 days of the opening of the semester.

Any child who will be five years before the end of the semester, however, will be accepted on passing an examination to be prescribed by the school department.

Peace Justice Fined For Possessing Liquor

The wonted peace and dignity of a courtroom is seldom disputed, and it's about the last place an officer would go to look for liquor. But, according to testimony in municipal court Friday, the courtroom of T. J. Dumas, Buckhead justice of the peace, offers possibilities for those seeking excitement.

According to witnesses, County Police Captain Oliver, Wallace, Douglas and Carter answered a call for help after a man had been seen running down the stairs from the justice's office, as the sound of a shot was heard. In the office officers said they found his honor, a pistol, and one gallon of liquor in a jug. That was on Saturday afternoon. They returned to the room on Monday and found more liquor in jugs and bottles, they testified.

Judge T. O. Hatcock imposed a fine of $100 and gave the justice a 12-month sentence, to be suspended upon payment of the fine. The court administered a severe reprimand, telling Dumas that his offense was particularly serious, inasmuch as he is an officer of the law entrusted with the duty of upholding the law instead of breaking it.

Youth, 17 Is Indicted, Sentenced Within Hour

Wilton Brooks, 17-year-old white youth, is a fast worker. Within less than half an hour after he was indicted Friday and before the grand jury had finished its session, Brooks appeared before Judge G. H. Howard in Fulton superior court and pleaded guilty to five counts of burglary. He was given two 10-to-12-year sentences, to run concurrently, and to follow sentences already imposed on him in DeKalb county.

Brooks pleaded guilty to two burglaries of the Whittier Mills Company storehouse, in which he took clothing and other articles valued at $73.35, to two burglaries at the home of Mrs. R. E. Carroll and a burglary of a filling station owned by H. M. Howell.

Brooks was taken to the DeKalb county jail to serve his sentences.

DODGE DEALERS HOLD MEETING IN ATLANTA

Dodge dealers in the Atlanta region of the company's organization gathered Friday at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel to meet factory executives headed by J. D. Burke, director of truck sales for a review of fall activities and for a discussion of basic plans scheduled to go into effect with the inauguration of another automobile selling season.

Mr. Burke reported, "not only has business been good throughout the year, but there has been, to a marked degree, a repetition of the performance of last year in which Dodge dealers' retail deliveries continued at a lively rate into fall months, during which automobile and truck sales usually show a seasonal decline."

"It is only natural that we should view these conditions, applying to our particular line, with satisfaction," Mr. Burke explained further. "The merchandise must have something to do with it, as well as the Dodge dealer organization whose records for the first ten months of the year show retail deliveries of 172,501 passenger cars and 41,200 trucks—a total of 213,700 vehicles."

"Today economic conditions are such that we have every reason to look forward to an even more prosperous new year. The past ten months have shown us, among other things, that not all the inspiration that makes for better business need necessarily come from factory headquarters. The dealer, in the locality in which he is a familiar figure, can do much to keep the wheels of industry turning and his own profits on the upturn."

"Nor do we have to look far for proof of this assertion. The success with which Dodge dealers of the Atlanta region have operated so far this year shows that they are a fine body of businessmen."

"While it is too early to hazard advance information regarding details that will distinguish the crop of new models now maturing in the factories," said Mr. Burke, "it is not improper to indicate some 1935 features which the new cars will bring sharply into focus. Beauty will, of course, be a predominant element in the impending changes; comfort will be provided in greater measure than ever; economy will have received considerable attention. A number of control operations which motorists heretofore had to do manually will attend to themselves, automatically. And there will be other innovations, some of them illustrating the open-minded promptness with which automobile engineering discards today what may have been hailed as perfect as late as yesterday."

2 Lottery Convictions Set Aside by Court

The court of appeals Friday reversed two lottery charge convictions because of alleged failures of the indictments to charge specific violations. Solicitor John S. McClelland, of the criminal court of Atlanta, said the decision did not affect pending cases as the lower court several months ago noted the error in such indictments and has rectified it.

The cases reversed were those of Mell Statham and Alice Red, convicted in 1933 and given jail sentences and fines. In its decision the high court held that no specific violation was charged.

Mr. McClelland, in announcing that other cases were not concerned by the decision, said that the technical error on which the court's decision hinged already has been corrected and that the court will proceed with the trial of the cases docketed.

Gloria's Guardians Seeking To Bar Mother From Estate

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Attorney Burkan argued that an appeal from Justice Carew's decision might be barred on a technicality, inasmuch as the Carew decision was signed "no final order." However, the justice said yesterday his decision was appealable.

In the first step toward an appeal, Mrs. Vanderbilt's attorney, Nathan Burkan, attacked the ruling of Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew which made 10-year-old Gloria the ward of his court.

On the mother's petition, Presiding Justice Edward R. Finch, of the appellate division, ordered Justice Carew to show cause next Friday why a writ of mandamus should not be issued requiring him to either sustain or dismiss Mrs. Vanderbilt's writ of habeas corpus.

In suing this writ, Mrs. Vanderbilt hoped to win her daughter away from the child's paternal aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

His decision did not close the case. He may reopen it at any time. Mrs. Vanderbilt's move is an attempt to definitely close the case, one way or another.

In surrogate's court, George W. Wickham and Thomas B. Gilchrist, little Gloria's guardians, attacked Mrs. Vanderbilt's petition to be appointed guardian of Gloria's estate.

"On information and belief," they reply to the petition said, "Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt is not qualified by training or experience for the performance of the duties of a guardian and has frequently absented herself from the United States on extended trips."

Six months ago plans were publicized whereby the interior and agriculture departments would co-operate in the buying up of land, dismantling sugar mills, tourist hotels and setting up small industrial plants. The plan has been delayed, it was reported today, because McCarl was unwilling to agree that all of the projects could legally be paid for with sugar processing taxes under the head of "agricultural relief."

The raids were made by City Detectives S. D. Vaughan and W. J. Anderson and Cal Cates, county policeman.

After several days of rain, sleet and snow, the country welcomed fairly clear skies Friday with only a few cloudy spots showing on the weather map.

Chattanooga, Tenn., had 52 degrees Friday, and Knoxville 56, but Nashville was getting colder with 44 degrees and Memphis 42. Along the seaboard Charleston had 55 degrees, Savannah 66, Jacksonville, Fla., 60; Richmond, Va., 63, and Philadelphia 54, Macon, Ga., registered 62 degrees and Augusta 58.

One of the Liverpool cables said, that sales of American descriptions were restricted by scarcity of desired qualities and that medium staples were practically exhausted, but that spinners were reluctant to pay the abnormally high southern basis for forward delivery.

According to published reports the cotton producer pool as of November 9 was holding 1,887,815 bales of spots and futures; that about 500,000 bales were held as collateral against the old 10-cent loan; and that 1,350,250 bales had been pledged by farmers against

There was heavy transferring from near to late months and differences widened further. The market opened active but there were numerous selling orders in the market. Liverpool came in much bet-

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 penny point down to 2 up.

FIGHT ON KINGFISH

Press, Power, Sulphur
Interests Launch War on "Dictator" Huey.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 23.—(UP)—Louisiana businessmen appealed to the federal government to order to smash Senator Huey Long's dictatorship, which they said was strangling private industry with illegal taxes.

Newspapers, power interests and sulphur companies went into federal court seeking injunctions against state taxes imposed on them.

New Orleans business leaders met to form an appeal to the public works administration in Washington for release of $14,000,000 in PWA funds to this state. The PWA held up all loans from Louisiana pending a complete study of the 44 laws which Long rammed through the legislature last week.

The wave of sentiment against Long spread to Tulane university, where the student newspaper, in a front-page editorial, said that "the Louisiana people are not so stupid as the ones in Europe, for here we have no glamorous and truly respected figure dictating."

The Kingfish was obliged to it all. He left for Hot Springs, Ark., where he is on a "second honeymoon," said he had set out for the woods with an axe to demonstrate wood-chopping to the boys.

Newspapers raised the issue of rights guaranteed them under the United States constitution. They went to court with brilliant array of legal talent, including Elisha Hanson, counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and United States Attorney General Cummings of Missouri, who came here to aid publishers in their show-down battle for freedom of the press.

Special three-judge federal court, composed of Judge Rufus E. Foster, of the United States fifth circuit court of appeals, and District Judges Wayne G. Borah and Ben C. Dawkins, heard the case.

As soon as the newspaper case was completed, the Arkansas - Louisiana Pipeline Company came to court, pleading for an injunction against the $1 per horsepower tax their company had been ordered to pay on its electric power production.

The Sulphur Company followed with a request for an injunction against the sulphur tax, which Long has raised from 27 to 60 cents.

The court took the petitions under advisement. A temporary restraining order against collecting the newspaper tax was left in effect.

United States warrant charging grand larceny. The woman was arrested when she appeared at the window with a man, identified as her husband, John D. Fincher, when they called to get a letter which was purported to have come from the mail. Another advising him that police were in his wife's trail.

The Atlanta detectives at the residence of W. B. Burke, assistant superintendent, commanding the detective bureau, District of Columbia, made the surprise arrest when they saw the woman deliver the letter through the window in accordance with the suggestions contained in Burke's letter to Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant.

Thereafter, Fincher and the woman were arrested. Burke wired Chief Sturdivant the thanks of his department and stated that she would be returned to the United States by the marshal immediately for trial. Washington dispatches said the woman was wanted in connection with the theft of a $40 per check.

Green Opposes Change in Pay for Relief Work

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23. (P)—

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today he didn't think "it just or right" to abandon the 30-cent an hour minimum wage for relief work.

Green added that the federation could oppose yesterday's order by Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, that the rate of relief pay could be the same as that prevailing in the community where the work is done.

Green expressed interest in Secretary Ickes' proposal that the building trades reduce their hourly wages in return for a higher yearly income in gigantic low-cost housing program.

Florida Favored Over Tech Today; Georgia Meets Auburn

O'DAY!
By Ralph McGill

A Visit to the President and Then On to the Game

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 23.—As a special reward for merit, the winners of tomorrow's game between Georgia and Auburn will be permitted to shake the hand that shook the hand of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Pausing at Warm Springs this afternoon, where the rear axle of the automobile bearing this correspondent to Columbus, snapped in twain, so to speak, an opportunity was afforded to meet the president at the Little White House.

At the conclusion of the press conference, all of which was off the record, Mr. Marvin McIntyre, the splendid secretary, took Mr. Kenneth Gregory, of the Associated Press, and this correspondent up to meet the president.

It is no wonder that Franklin D. Roosevelt has captured the entire nation. He is the direct antithesis of everything the great engineer represented when he was in the White House. Which makes Mr. Roosevelt just about perfect. To date no one has found anything correct about Mr. Roosevelt's predecessor at Washington.

The president was genial and in great humor. He was hurrying off to visit his farm. The visit had been announced and a large crowd was waiting at the farm. As he left the gates of the Little White House he was cheered by a crowd assembled there. It is no secret. They like the man who dealt the New Deal.

NEWMAN EXCITED.

Passing through Newnan we found that city somewhat excited. The Georgia football team halted there for the night rather than come on to Columbus where the noise of the impending battle echoes up from each of the hotels.

Newnan was decorated somewhat. Mr. Haynie, whose barbecue stand is a landmark just outside Newnan, was also somewhat excited. Today is his 63d birthday and his wife was a bit worried. There was a big pink and white cake on the table with 64 candles on it and the word "Papa" written in white icing on the top. Mr. Haynie was having all his customers alight and come inside to see the cake.

In the kitchen Mrs. Haynie was cooking a couple of ducks, three possums and other dainties.

"His birthday dinner is set for 8 o'clock," said Mr. Haynie, "but I am worried about it; he is so excited about that football team that is coming here tonight I am afraid he would be up there and forget to come home and eat."

"Not with three possums and two ducks cooking," said Mr. Haynie, "but I am going to see that Georgia football team and that fellow Harry Mehre."

So, maybe the Georgia football team won't be so quiet after all. I imagine all the town will want to see the team and that fellow Harry Mehre.

AUBURN HOPES.

Auburn hopes are growing here in Columbus. The team will arrive in the morning but their supporters are here in growing numbers. They argue that Auburn has always made a great stand here and will make one on the morrow.

They are not frightened by Georgia's victory over the Yale team and the subsequent victory of the Yales over the Princeton. In fact, this suits the Plainsmen right down to the proverbial "T." Georgia had defeated Yale last year and Auburn took Georgia over the hurdles in a surprise victory. And in 1932 Georgia was supposed to win and did get away to a lead but Auburn came back and won.

"The better those Bulldogs go the better we like it," said the Auburn alumni here. "The bigger they are the harder they fall." You see, the situation is really very serious here. There are alumni from other colleges in Columbus but they are not active. The Auburn and Georgia alumni dwell together in perfect friendship here for 11 months and three weeks of each year. But the week of the Georgia-Auburn game finds old friends nodding and speaking in strained voices.

The winning group wins the right, as the team wins, to speak coarsely of the rival group for the remainder of the year; make unkind remarks in the Sunday morning gathering at the drug store, and otherwise make life miserable for the losers. Winning and losing is serious business to the alumni here in Columbus.

THE 1892 FEATURE.

The Constitution's feature of Friday morning, when the story of the 1892 game, the first one played between Auburn and Georgia, was reproduced on the sports pages, won much public favor.

Many of the older alumni were recalling incidents of the game and one lady recalled she was a sponsor at the game.

A gentleman here recalled that the boys, some of them, visited a bar or so and consequently one of the pre-game features was a large number of carriage races out the muddy streets to Piedmont park.

The 1892 game was not only the first one between the two institutions but it was played by the original football teams at each institution.

Judge Frank Foley, who denies vigorously he was a cheer leader for Georgia at that game, is nevertheless under suspicion as having been there just the same.

THE INSURANCE BUSINESS.

One of the many pleasant features of this visit to Columbus is the visit to Mr. Frank Lumpkin's insurance office. I always drop around and have a little talk with Mr. Lumpkin about the insurance business.

Another pleasant feature is the visit to the open house at the Foley home where Mother Foley, an ardent Georgia supporter for three decades, presides.

Columbus happens to be a most pleasant city with most pleasant people as residents. The Georgia-Auburn game would look unreasonable elsewhere.

THE SATURDAY GUESSES.

Admitting before we start that your guess is as good as mine, we will go right along with our best Saturday guessing.

Florida should beat Tech because Florida has more offense. Tech has a chance to win this one, but must pull a surprise offense which hasn't shown any signs of existing to date. Hence the vote for Florida. They have one or two small-bore guns. The Techs to date have been shooting with popguns.

Tulane will not have a great deal of trouble with Sewanee's undermanned eleven and should win going away with subs in the lineup. It is the rest game for Tulane before the L. S. U. game next week.

Centenary should take Mississippi and Centre is a favorite over Mercer by a good margin.

Georgia should come through over Auburn by at

By Jimmy Jones.

In good condition for the first time in several weeks, Georgia Tech's invading Jackets entered last night for Gainesville, Fla., and the football game there tomorrow, which will be the last of the 1934 season.

"We're in pretty fair shape, for a change, and I guess you would call that news," Coach Alexander said with a dry smile yesterday as he watched his squad go through a lot of warming-up gymnastics at Grant field.

The practice was very light, consisting of nothing more strenuous than a game or so of leap-frog, some of the so-called "tag" football and signal drilling.

STARTS REGULARS.

Coach Alexander said he would start the same lineup he sent against Alabama last week and which acquitted itself fairly respectable on defense against running plays, stopping the red juggernaut completely on the ground and forcing Uga Howell to take to the air in order to blast the Engineers' rugged and spirited defense.

The starting team tomorrow will consist of "Krazy" Katz and Hoot Gibson, ends; Williams and Eubanks, tackles; the Wilcox brothers, at guard; Charley Preston, center; and Roberts, Street, Perkinson and Phillips in the backfield.

The Jackets hope to hawtly Billy Chase, the Floridian's crack passer, against Jack "Beckwith" Howell, Brown, the two light but very "rabbits" of the Florida backfield.

The Alligators, coached jointly by "Dutch" Stanley, Goofer Bowyer, Ben Clemens and several other alumni, haven't done so well this year, but succeeded in conquering Auburn, 14 to 7, at Montgomery last Saturday in a late comeback. The "Gators" previously were routed by Maryland, 21-0, and forced to look rather badly by several other second-rate teams.

A RUGGED LINE.

Florida has a rugged line and one which is capable of playing very good football when keyed up.

The Jackets made an overnight jump to Gainesville, where a crowd of 15,000 is expected tomorrow.

Last year, Tech defeated the 'Gators, 19-6. Florida's only score before a kick by Weldon Shearer, the center, who is hurt and will not play. Year before last the Jackets also defeated a Florida team at Grant field, 23-0, in a surprise victory.

Tech is eager to get back into the win column by drubbing the 'Gators again, and if the Jackets do so, it will mark their second victory of the season, and give a lot of impetus to the game with Georgia at Athens Saturday week, which ends both teams' schedules.

'Gators Celebrate Home-Coming Today.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 23.—(AP)—Each bent on salvaging what it can out of a poor season, the University of Florida and Georgia Tech tie up here tomorrow before a 'Gator home-coming crowd.

With a record of defeat probably unparalleled at the Atlanta institution, Tech is the underdog. Not since the opening game with Clemson have the Yellow Jackets swarmed from a victorious field. Seven mournful Saturdays have passed since then.

Three defeats are on the books against the 'Gators. But while Tech was suffering last Saturday, Florida stepped out against Auburn to take its first conference victory.

On the side of the Golden Tornado is tradition. Only once in their long series has Florida downed Tech. That was in 1920, and the score was 55 to 7.

Injuries have played no small part in keeping Tech near the Southern conference cellar, but the Jackets will go into action tomorrow virtually bandaged.

Florida's football hospital also is almost without a patient. Only Weldon Shearer, center, who was lost for the season several weeks ago, is definitely out.

Billy Chase, the 'Gators' "pitching" back, is handicapped by an injured shoulder but has kept it in wraps all week and is reported ready to do some more tossing.

Crippled Kiddies Pose With Jackets

Yesterday was a red-letter day in the young lives of several bright-eyed youngsters from the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children.

Five of them came out to Grant field and had their pictures made with members of the Tech freshman team, which plays the Georgia Bulldogs here on Thanksgiving afternoon, proceeds of the game to go to the hospital fund.

The football players held the kiddies on their laps while the cameras clicked.

One little girl of about three years with her foot in a plaster cast became a bit frightened at all the football players around, but the others were calm and very curious.

The Scottish Rite hospital, which benefits annually from the Georgia-Tech freshman game, has done a wonderful work in the 19 years of its history, enabling 5,500 crippled and deformed children in Georgia to regain use of their limbs.

James Setze, Jr., chairman of the committee on arrangements for the game.

Minnesota, Stanford, Rice Hold Nation's Spotlight Today

GOPHERS FACE BADGERS; BEARS BATTLE INDIANS

Army Favored to Take Fighting Notre Dame Eleven.

By Alan Gould.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—On five widely scattered stages, with traditional rivalry and glittering pageantry for a background, one of the most dramatic of all college football seasons promises to unfold another rapid-fire sequence of exciting episodes to-morrow.

All-America aspirations of the main actors in the cast of the gridiron's big show, as well as championship hopes and Rose Bowl ambitions, will be at stake as the spotlight is turned on such outstanding football productions as Harvard-Yale at New Haven, Army-Notre Dame at New York's Yankee Stadium, Minnesota-Wisconsin at Madison, Rice-Texas Christian at Houston and California-Stanford at Berkeley.

Close to 300,000 fans will contribute nearly $1,000,000 to the gate receipts of these first spectacles, with a capacity turnout of 80,000 anticipated for the battle between West Point's Cadets and the Fighting Irish; 60,000 expected for the climax of the ancient Big Three rivalry in the Yale bowl; and 75,000, largest crowd of the Pacific coast season, likely to witness the annual California "big game." There will be a sellout crowd of 38,000 at Madison and 14,000 at Houston.

THREE MAIN TEAMS.

The race for national championship honors will focus interest mainly on the performances of Minnesota, Stanford and Rice, all three unbeaten and all three headed for major sectional titles on the crest of tremendous scoring waves. Two of their principal rivals for ranking positions in the national list, Alabama and Pittsburgh, are idle until next week, but two others, Ohio State and Colgate, figure to keep their feet under the table for further argument.

Minnesota's juggernaut meets its final test against a much improved Wisconsin eleven that upset Illinois last week for the homecoming party in honor of the celebrated Pat O'Dea, but it will be nothing short of a miracle if the Badgers can produce the stuff to slow down the Galloping Gophers, much less stop them. Minnesota still eyes the Rose Bowl hopefully, but whether Big Ten restrictions can or cannot be lifted, for a post-season trip to Pasadena, Bernie Bierman's powerhouse seems certain to finish with a perfect record and a first-place claim to the No. 1 ranking position. Stanford likewise will find its reputation challenged by a determined Pack of California Bears, but here again the chances are slim that much can be done about checking Grayson, Moscrip Company. The unbeaten Indians can take no undue chances but their path to Pasadena for the New Year's Day classic appears to include few thorns among the roses.

EQUALLY STRONG.

Rice Institute, with an attack led by one of the country's outstanding backs in Bill Wallace, is an equally strong choice over the rugged Texas Christian outfit. The Owls have romped over all opposition since being tied early in October by Louisiana State and figure to be strong candidates for post-season play in the "Sugar Bowl" game at New Orleans if not for the Rose Bowl.

Yale's gallant "Iron Men," the same eleven sturdy sons of Old Eli who knocked Princeton from the unbeaten class a week ago, will start as somewhat pronounced favorites over Harvard. The Blue has a definite edge on the offense, with an aerial attack featuring Jerry Roscoe and Larry Kelley, but the Crimson has a splendidly coached line and a few players who for defensive measures as well as ball-carrying threats. Past performances mean no more in this game than they did in the Yale-Princeton contest. The Blue cannot claim the Big Three championship until it outscors the Crimson.

ARMY BY A SHADE.

Notre Dame and Army promise one of their characteristic "clashers" for the benefit of the season's biggest eastern crowd, with the corps of Cadets rivaling the unofficial alumni of Notre Dame in enthusiasm. The "Fighting Irish" have had an in-and-out campaign but they have a habit of rising to their best against the soldiers. They have not lost last year after trailing 0-12 at half-time. They have greater power and stronger reserves but their attack will have to cut to beat this sharp-hitting, resourceful Cadet team. It's a tough game to pick, with both teams in shape and Army's Jack Buckley, an outstanding triple-threat, matching the driving force in Notre Dame's backfield. On a last-minute hunch, it looks like Army, but anything can happen.

Syracuse, despite its heart-breaking loss to Colgate last week, gets the call over Columbia's Lions, still going strong despite the loss of Rose Bowl Al Barabas. The Orange from up-state looks to have too much power for Lou Little's aggressive bunch, but it's the kind of a game that may develop a race for touchdowns.

Colgate, still gunning for eastern title recognition and a possible call to post-season fray from points west or south, may catch a Tartar in Rutgers, which has been slaughtering second-class opposition since October. The Maroon Magicians have the edge but not by any overwhelming margin.

WATCH PRINCETON.

Princeton's power, wasted on Yale, is liable to explode in the midst of Dartmouth's Indians despite the fact the latter is at full strength for the first time this season. Pop Warner's unbeaten Temple team, another outfit that has come along impressively in the second half of the season, is favored to turn the tables on Villanova. Tulsa, neither beaten nor tied, will be lucky to keep its record intact against the strong Massachusetts State Teachers.

Purdue's old Hoosier rival, Indiana, is the only barrier to the Boiler-maker's claim to at least a share in the Big Ten conference championships. It should be handled by the likely twins, Purvis and Carter, while Ohio State is taking Iowa into camp and Michigan makes a final bid for conference victory against Northwestern. It looks like more bad news for the hapless Wolverines.

There's a full before the Thanksgiving Day storm in most other major districts. Kansas State likely will have trouble beating Iowa State to-morrow before battling Nebraska for the Big Six title next Thursday. Alabama's final test in the Southeastern conference against Vanderbilt is another holiday attraction. Tulane, meanwhile, should trim Sewanee to-morrow, while Georgia-Auburn are asked.

'They Shall Not Pass'

This is probably what the Auburn Tigers are saying on the eve of their traditional battle with Georgia's Bulldogs at Columbus today. Above is the veteran quarterback of the Georgia team, Jack Griffith, in the act of throwing a pass. Griffith has not done much passing himself, but has done a swell job of running the Georgia team in the last two games when the Bulldogs overpowered Yale and N. C. State. Staff photo.

MOREHOUSE WINS OVER FISK, 13 TO 0

A hard-fighting Fisk University eleven from Nashville, Tenn., earned lasting glory Friday afternoon at Ponce de Leon park when it held a strong Morehouse eleven, favored to win easily, for three full quarters and weakened in the final period and lost the closely fought battle, 13-0, before 1,000 customers.

Fisk made no serious threat to score throughout the game, although Walter Thomas, an Atlanta boy, and Frank Ransom, a substitute fullback, ran well for the visitors. Glass also gained well for Fisk.

The Morehouse eleven missed a score in the second quarter when Walter Greene took McCurine's 15-yard pass and raced 22 additional yards but was forced out of bounds on the 8-yard line. Line plays were stopped cold and John Young missed McCurine's fourth down pass behind the goal. The half ended, 0-0.

The third period saw Fisk command the ball without threatening. Glass got off for two good gains and "Happy" Alexander, Fisk's All-Southern tackle, was in continual evidence. Just as the third period was ending, McCurine, Morehouse quarterback, broke loose on a deceptive play and raced 42 yards to the Fisk 24-yard line. Greene picked up 5 more yards and McCurine made it first down on the 13-yard line. McCurine's pass, which Roswell grabbed, was good for 11 yards and a first down on the 24-yard line. Scott was over on three plays. McCurine's pass to Greene was good for the extra point and Morehouse led, 7-0.

A few minutes later, another Morehouse score was lost when Young dropped another touchdown pass from McCurine. However, with the pony backfield in the game, Morehouse drove on the 36-yard line for a touchdown when Pierre gained 8 yards, with Elliott Jones making it first down on the 25-yard line, and with Jones getting another first down, Giles Baugh a third one on two plays, and Jones going over for the score. Young's misplaced kick went wide. Morehouse was ahead, 13-0, and the game ended a minute later.

McCurine, Roswell, Scott and Hayes starred for Morehouse in her accumulation of two touchdowns and 10 first downs, while Alexander, Thomas, Glass, Jackson and Morton were easily the stars for Fisk.

THE SCHEDULE.

Morehouse	Fisk
Hayes	Glenn
Dawson	Watson
Whitely	Jackson
Albright	Bowling
McFall	Reas
Stephens	Alexander
Young	Pilmer
McCurine	Lawson
Roswell	Mitchell
Scott	Glass
Green	Thomas
Substitutes: Morehouse, Ellis, Marshall, Smith, McMan, Davis, Pierre, Jones, Brown, Fisk, Howard, Reid.

Florida-Georgia Tech top the day's traditional offerings. Washington State's chances of disputing the Pacific coast title with Stanford are at stake in the annual tussle with the University of Washington. The Cougars hold an advantage on past performances but this is another contest where everybody starts from scratch with no favors asked.

Orr Elevens Will Play Today

Fritz Orr football team will play a public exhibition game this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Fritz Orr field.

Sponsors already named are Misses Janet Appleby, Callie Huger, Lillian Grant and Virginia Harrison.

The midweek team put on great exhibitions. It only requires a small stretch of the imagination to turn them into full-sized teams, such is the knowledge of football fundamentals as mastered by the little fellows.

Tennin bowlers will have a "cash award" tennis sweepstakes in which to compete Saturday evening. Handicaps in the big wood event will be computed from 190, with the player getting two-thirds the difference.

Dailey, of the Alligators' team, in the First National Bank league, was "red hot" as he bowled splendid games of 134 and 119 to lead his team to a pair of victories over the Bulls last night.

In the same league, Purley had a 129, Pasmore 113, Sargent 109 and Kelly 107 and 111. Kirk 129, Kelly 110 and 107, Smith 134 to tie Dailey for high game, not to mention others nearby this high.

The Reds won two close games from the Blues in the special match between the bowlers from the Peachtree Christian church Friday evening. Burnett was high with 118; Banks had 103 and Klier 107.

In the First National Bank Ladies' league, Misses Nabell and Rickenbacker were high with games of 108 and 102, respectively.

Atlanta, Jackson Play Scoreless Tie

A hard-fighting Atlanta team played Jackson to a scoreless tie at Jackson. Both teams showed up well in defense. Although the Atlanta team was outwitted they matched play for play with the Jackson team.

The work of Camp for Atlanta in backing up the line was outstanding. Jackson started a drive on the kick-off that was stopped on the Atlanta 5-yard line. That was the only scoring threat made by Jackson.

THE SCHEDULE.

Atlanta	Jackson
Thomas	Harris
Pont	Tracy
Davis	Ward
Phillips	Hammon
Smith	Stone
Roberts	Harbo
Jones	Rainer
Lamp	Norman
Watson	Perry
Cook	Cobb

80,000 TO SEE IRISH BATTLE CADETS TODAY

Army and Notre Dame Ready for Game at Yankee Field.

By Eddie Briets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Football forces of Army and Notre Dame pitched camp in suburban New York today all ready for tomorrow's colorful engagement at the Yankee stadium.

The game is a sell-out. If the weather is fair a capacity crowd of 80,000 is assured. Late reports are for a clear, cold day—ideal football weather.

The betting favors Notre Dame, despite reverses by both Pitt and Navy. Except for a 7-to-0 setback at the hands of Illinois, the Cadets go into the fray with a fine record and strong hopes of avenging last year's one-point defeat.

The rival coaches—among the youngest head tutors in the business—decline to forecast the outcome, but promise a furious, exciting struggle between two well-matched, highly geared machines.

In Westchester county, where the South Bend aggregation is encamped, Elmer Layden, new head coach, said: "We are at full strength. Army can be assured of a real battle."

From Briarcliff lodge, temporary headquarters of the Army, came this word from Lieutenant "Gar" Davidson:

"Notre Dame looks strong. But we are ready. It should prove an interesting game. I think we will score." Both teams went through light but snappy rehearsals today.

Jingle Bell
Woman Reads Book in Car Awaiting a Bite

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 23.—(AP)—An expensive limousine, containing a fashionable dressed matron, stopped at a causeway bridge here last night and a smartly groomed chauffeur hopped out.

Dexterously, the driver put together a rod-and-reel outfit. He fastened to the rod a gadget to hold the free end of the rod, attached a tinkling bell to the line before throwing out a baited hook and handed the handle of the rod to his mistress.

Hopping back into the car, the chauffeur assumed an impassive pose. The lady sat thumbing the pages of a book with one hand and holding the pole with the other, while waiting for the tinkle of the bell to warn her of a bite.

If veteran anglers are snickering—here's something to calm them down. The woman caught two fair-sized mackerel and a four-pound snook.

KING LEVINSKY, LASKEY IN DRAW

Miss Judy King Wins More Honors

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Captain F. A. A'Hearn, of the Irish Free

State team, rode the big brown gelding, Ireland's Own, to victory in the military "brood jump" at the Royal Winter Fair horse show.

Captivation, a chestnut mare owned by Mrs. Louie Long Combs, of Lee's Summit, N. J., won the event for single harness horses, not over 15 hands 2 inches, with Knight Bachelor, owned by Miss Judy King, of Atlanta, second.

The team of Knight Bachelor and Danum Woodbine, owned by Miss King, won the class for harness tandem.

SIR ARTHUR PINERO PASSES IN LONDON

Famous English Playwright Was 79 Years Old.

Pinero started on his road to fame as an author by writing plays for himself—and every actor who played any part in Pinero's plays played them just as he would have, to the smallest gesture, the slightest inflection.

Born in London May 24, 1855, Pinero had studied law in his father's office but gave that up at the age of 19 to enter the theater, appearing first as an actor at the Theatre Royal in Edinburgh.

In 1881 he turned to writing, turning out his first one-act piece, "Daisy's Escape." Thereafter he was prolific in playwriting, turning out scores of works among which were the famous "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "The Amazons," "His House in Order," and others.
